

EDITOR CHALLENGE

Celebrity Feature

Would you like to interview a celebrity one day?
If so, then try this challenge!

Step 1

Who would you like to interview? It could be a sports celebrity, a pop star or even a superhero – anyone you like!

Step 2

Now think of five questions you would love to ask them. The idea is to end up with five interesting facts, plus an exclusive news story.

Top tips!

- ★ Use open questions so they can't just answer "yes" or "no". So don't ask: "Do you like being famous?" But try: "What's the best thing about being famous?" You'll get a better answer!
- ★ Listen carefully. They might say something exciting that you didn't expect. Feel free to ask questions to find out more.

Step 3

This is where the grown-ups get involved. They will play the part of the celebrity and you will be interviewing them. Make notes as they reveal their facts and pay attention – they might have a big announcement to make! This is called an exclusive!

My Five questions

You will need to write a headline and an introduction (that's the bit that explains the headline). For example:

Headline Five facts about Taylor Swift

Introduction Think you know everything about Taylor? Think again!

Find a picture from a magazine to make your interview look exciting. Your chosen celebrity will be the main image, but you could find smaller pictures to add in as well. So, if they say that they love dogs, you could find a picture of a dog to go with that quote.

Don't forget to listen out for the exclusive story!
