

Brereton C of E (A) Primary School Newsletter

Spring Term
Friday 20th January 2017

Dear Parents,

Year Six had a very mysterious visitor on Thursday morning. Years Five and Six stumbled across a mound of ash with a part burnt diary entry hinting at a note of regret at the witch's actions. Regret? From a witch? What could this mean?

If only they could ask her...

This was work on the text 'Lost Happy Endings'. Everyone at school is enjoying our new approach to writing which is part of our two year focus on improving writing standards through the Primary Writing Project.

Parent Governor Elections

Next week I will be sharing information about the four candidates for the parent governor vacancy. You will have time to consider who you wish to vote for as we will hold the election on Friday 27th January. We will send out a voting paper to every home or you can drop in to the school office on Friday to complete a voting slip. The result will be posted on the front door of school next Friday afternoon and I will inform you via the newsletter.

This week I would like to celebrate the wonderful atmosphere that greets you at Brereton Primary School.

I have been privileged to show quite a few visitors around the school this week and all of them have spoken about how warm and welcoming the school is. They have seen for themselves how excellent the behaviour is and how well pupils are engaged in their learning.

We can sometimes take for granted our school and its pupils. It is lovely to be reminded how great our pupils are.
