Spring Term
Friday 29th January 2016

Dear Parents,

What a busy week we have had! Monday saw our Year 6 pupils teaching our Reception pupils to master Scottish dancing in celebration of Burns night. The dancing might take a little longer to perfect but the children were very willing to try haggis. Our thanks go to Miss Goff for making this such a memorable day.

Year 6 have been working with Mrs Wood and myself in literacy lessons this week. We have used active story telling to retell William Shakespeare's 'Macbeth'. The children have been so enthusiastic - it really has been an absolute delight.

'When shall we three meet again?'

'All hail Duncan, King of Scotland!' The children decided that Shakespeare wrote great stories with lots of cliff hangers. They gained an understanding of Shakespearean language by repeating several speeches and by acting out the story together to explore the characters and plot.

This week we are celebrating the singing of our pupils.

Each day in assemblies we join together to sign a hymn or a song. It is always a pleasure as everyone joins in and enjoys this special time.

Whenever we worship together in St Oswald's Church the children always perform wonderfully and this is the case during nativities and shows.

A pleasure to listen to your voices Brereton pupils. Well done!
